

Spring Into the Conversation at April Coffee with Council Simple Way To Stay Connected And Shape Your Community — One Cup At A Time

Steamboat Springs, Colorado-April 14, 2026-Spring is officially in the air, and this season makes it the perfect moment to reconnect with your community. Residents are invited to the next Coffee with Council on Friday, April 17, from 8–9 am in the Paachihpi Community Room at City Hall (115 10th Street).

As the season shifts and new ideas begin to bloom, Coffee with Council offers a relaxed, presentation-free hour where residents can talk directly with available City Councilors about whatever is on their mind.

No agenda or formalities — just genuine conversation over a fresh pot of coffee.

For more than a decade, this program has thrived on open, respectful dialogue. It's a space where neighbors and councilors can exchange perspectives, explore solutions, and discuss community issues in a welcoming, come-as-you-are setting. Whether you're feeling the springtime energy or just want to give your civic engagement a metaphorical high five, this is the place to do it.

Coffee with Council continues on the third Friday of each month through May, before transitioning to the city's summer engagement efforts at Mainstreet Steamboat's Farmers Market beginning in early June.

As spring brings renewal and fresh momentum, Coffee with Council offers a simple way to stay connected and help shape your community — one cup at a time.
